Agenda Books

There are only 33 agenda books. Maureen is going to send out an e-mail to the teachers to see if they like the agenda books that the students have been using and do they want the students to continue using them next year.

Literacy Night

Robin is going to do some research on how to get some free books or grants to help buy books for Literacy Night.

Fundraising Ideas

Some of the ideas for different fundraisers were:

- 1 Note-a-thon this was Mr. Daly's idea. The students would play so many musical notes or sing so many notes maybe work the fundraiser into the spring concert.
- 2 Race for Education, Read-a Thon or a Jump-a-Thon where 100% of the money goes to the school.
- 3 Duck Fundraiser- Have it at the pond near the school maybe have it during Old Home Day. I said I would check with Fred to see if the Fire Department would help out with putting a fan near the pond to help the ducks move in the pond
- 4 Cash for Gold-Have parents or friends of the family bring in their gold have it weighed and receive money for the amount the gold is worth. Then at the end Link would get an amount for hosting the event.

Blue Jay Pins

Mrs. Bradley talked to Ray Ellis about the Blue Jay pins. He would like to see Link out selling the Blue Jay pin more. Amy C. offered to set a table up at Literacy night to sell cookbooks and Blue Jay Pins.

Grants

Robin B. said that she never received a letter in November stating that we were declined for our grant so we should be receiving grant money end of March early April.
